

We're back! In person for 2021!

Summer Youth Writing Project

~ A camp for young writers ~
The Place for Young Writers

This program is different from “school” writing. Led by professional writers and experienced teacher consultants for the National Writing Project, participants will explore what it is like to be a real writer. Writers are guided through activities that promote creativity and enrich language development. Workshops emerge from the real needs of writers--through participation, students will develop the tools needed to enrich their voice, clarify their message, and help readers gain meaning from their words.

Open to students in grades 3-12 for 2021-2022; previous attendees may choose to return the summer after high school graduation

Session #1 June 21-25 M-TH 9:00-3:00/ F 9:00-noon $225 early reg/$250
